TENNY, DEFEATED BY NEIL, EXPIRES OF HIS INJURIES BEATEN BOY FIGHTER SENSELESS DEAD

FRANKIE NEIL AND THE BLOW THAT KILLED HARRY TENNY.

This picture was posed for the Boston American by Frankie Neil while training for the fight, and as he stood in front of the camera he said: "This is my favorite blow." By an unfortunate coincidence this is the very blow that caused the death of Harry Tenny, who died this morning after being knocked out by Neil last night. In the fourteenth and last round Neil dropped Tenny with a succession of these hooks in the wind. When Tenny arose Neil sent in a dozen hooks to the stomach and Tenny went down again. The blood poured from his nose and mouth and he was unable to continue.

Towboat Turns Turtle Off Gloucester; 3 DROWN IN GALE

Captain and Firemen See Comrades Go Down, Unable to Lend Them Aid.

Tug, Topheavy From Dredging Machinery on Deck, Sinks in Deep Water.

GLoucester, March 1.—The tug Willard, from Boston to York, Me., turned turtle early this morning near Avery's ledge, off Thatcher's island, without a moment's warning.

Three men were drowned.

The men lost from the Willard are: Thompson, Joseph, engineer, forty, married, of Fairhaven, Fowleside, Me.; Giverson, George, cook, single, of Boston; Pearson, George, deckhand, Portland.

SEE COMRADES DROWN.

The Willard came to Gloucester from Boston yesterday. She carried a large dredging outfit on her deck, and this is supposed to have made her topheavy. Captain Henry Sawyer of Yarmouth, Me., and Alton Webster, the engineer, were aboard after a battle struggle in heavy seas. They saw their comrades drown, before they were rescued.

The Willard was an old boat, built at Gloucester, Mass., in 1880.

NANCHANG SEIZED BY ALLIES; PEOPLE FLEE

CHRISTIANS REPORTED SLAIN BY NATIVES IN HONAN PROVINCE, CHINA.

SHANGHAI, March 1.—American missionaries from the gunboat El Cano, blockaded from the British ship Cleo and the gunboat Yael and from a German gunboat, have reached Nanchang, the scene of the recent massacre of Catholics, and have taken possession of the town.

They have imprisoned over a hundred natives, and the rest of the population is fleeing from the district.

The gunboats landed their men at Kio-ling, the head of navigation.

The French cruiser Dacotay and the United States gunboat Quila are reported to have arrived at Kio-ling.

WAIT NEWS OF 700 ON SAXONIA NOW OVERDUE

Usual Wireless From the Big Cunarder, Day Behind, Has Not Yet Been Received.

The Cunard liner Saxonia, with two passengers aboard, is one day overdue from Liverpool, but she has not responded by wireless yet as approaching the Atlantic coast. Ordinarily the Saxonia sends a wireless message from twenty-four to thirty-six hours ahead of her arrival, and one was expected Tuesday. This makes the message between two and three days overdue.

It is thought the big liner has been delayed by the gale, with possibly some accident to the ship, which is one of the biggest of the Cunard line.

FOUND BODY IN SPRING.

CHATHAM, N. J., March 1.—Harp C. B. Moore, a student in Columbia University, was found drowned in a spring on his father's estate here. His family received the report, apparently written and signed by the young man, telling them to look for his body where it was found.

Desperate Battle in the Ring Last Night at San Francisco Results in Tragedy—Defeated Boy Was Terribly Beaten.

By the Longest Leased Wire in the World.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Literally beaten to death, Harry Tenny, the bantam weight prize fighter, defeated by Frankie Neil last night after fourteen rounds of the most brutal fighting ever seen in San Francisco, died at 7:30 to day.

Tenny was unconscious, save at intervals, from the moment he was carried from the ring, his face battered beyond recognition. Surgeons and physicians worked over him for hours trying to bring him to his senses.

Tenny's death was caused by internal injuries due to terrific left-hand hooks to the wind, delivered by Neil all through the fight. In the last round no less than a dozen of these were sent home with frightful effect, Tenny being sent to the floor repeatedly, until, with blood pouring from mouth and nose, he was unable to rise.

Several times before the final round, when it was seen that Tenny could not stand such punishment longer, he was urged to quit, but he refused, and each time staggered back into the ring to the most frightful punishment. His sports have ever seen.

Tenny, who saw the fight marveled at the power of the force applied. At times he clung to his head as if refusing to be beaten, but he kept at it. He refused to run away and every time that Neil's left hand came down on his face, Tenny was completely knocked out. He was bleeding from the nose and the mouth.

Sank Into Unconsciousness.

It was his dressing room the young fighter entered. "All seem sunk into unconsciousness," the attendants were horrified to find him. They tried many remedies known to them, but he would not wake up. It was a pitiable sight when he was taken to the dressing room, his face was swollen like a puffer, and his eyes were closed. He was bleeding from the nose and the mouth.

No Match for Neil.

Although in their previous fight Tenny managed to stay twenty-five rounds against Neil, this night the ex-sprinter was no match for his wily opponent. Not once during the battle was Tenny formidable, and it was only a question of time before he would be down and out.

Neil, who was administered a severe punishment by the referee, was sent to the hospital. He was found there at 7:30 to day. The third time was his last. He died at 7:30 to day. His family received the report, apparently written and signed by the young man, telling them to look for his body where it was found.

FINAL ROUND OF FIGHT IN WHICH DEATH BLOWS WERE GIVEN TENNY

ROUND FOURTEEN.—Tenny started with a rush. Neil hooked left to wind, sending Tenny to the ropes. Neil dropped him with a succession of hooks on the wind. Tenny took the count. When he arose, Neil sent a dozen hooks to the stomach and sent Tenny down again. Tenny could not get up. He let the timer count ten over him after knowing he was beaten. The blood poured from his nose and mouth and he was unable to go any further.

HAS J. D. ROCKEFELLER BEEN CAUGHT AT LAST?

BOSTON REPORT THAT HE IS SUBPOENAED IS DENIED IN NEW YORK.

The Boston News Bureau has sent out a bulletin to the effect that John D. Rockefeller has been served with a subpoena in connection with the Missouri Standard Oil suits. Another bulletin of the Bureau says that Rockefeller is in New York.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Lawyer Wellman in charge of the subpoena served of the Standard Oil case says Rockefeller has not been served. They do not know where he is.

"If Mr. Rockefeller had been served," said Mr. Wellman, "I would have received immediate notice of it. The truth is, his whereabouts are still shrouded in as much mystery as ever."

Noted Hub Lawyer Dies.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 1.—Judge Charles H. Hub, a prominent lawyer and one of the leading figures in the St. Paul bar, died at his home here at the age of seventy-two.

SEARCH DRUG STORES FOR CLUE TO POISON MYSTERY

Hyde Park Police Try to Find Who Bought Arsenic Which Killed Blake.

Drug stores of Boston are being searched today by Hyde Park officers in an endeavor to find the place where the arsenic which was placed in the drink by J. Herbert Blake and which caused his death was sold. If the police can find the purchaser they expect to be able to throw considerable light on the mystery surrounding Blake's death.

His dying declaration to Father Chalk of the Church of the Most Precious Blood that he was not a suicide, but was forced into suicide in the case in which he died, has been a source of intense interest in the case. His death will be thoroughly investigated.

It is related that Blake's fellow employees were with him on the day of his death, that he was apparently in good spirits, that he gave out the signature of a despondency. They know no reason for his death in his business.

FUNERAL HELD TODAY.

Blake's funeral, held today from the church of the Most Precious Blood, will be attended by a large number of his associates at the factory of the National Blank Company.

His widow, Mrs. Blake's first husband, J. Herbert Blake, is now in the city.

POLICEMAN AND FIREMENS FIGHT FROM FLAMES

Fighting their way through smoke and flames, firemen and a policeman rescued seven people from the second and third floors of a ten-story building (No. 322) in the city today. There were twelve people in the building, five of whom sustained no injury without the aid of the firemen.

Patrolman Towner of the East Boston street police station discovered the fire and turned in the alarm. Before the apparatus could arrive Towner had rescued seven people from the second and third floors of the building. The fire was caused by a gas stove in the kitchen of the second floor. The fire spread rapidly and the building was filled with smoke. The firemen arrived and fought the fire for some time. The fire was finally extinguished and the building was saved. The seven people who were rescued were taken to the hospital for treatment of their injuries.

NEWS OF THE THEATRES JACK HARKAWAY'S SON

Tremont Theatre
Amplified as was the speaking of Mrs. Carter in "Adios," it is a property of immense audience. It is a wonderful opportunity for her great voice. The performance began promptly at 7:45, and continued until 10:15.

Maestric Theatre
Created from a description given in an old ballad in the Boston Museum of the Middle Ages, the dance given by the Bostonians in the first act of "Maestric" has attracted the attention of students. It is a very original, but is only one picture of the scene or scene during the performance of the great poet.

Hollis Street Theatre
While it is true that the Bostonians are a long time, as "The American" has said, to get the most popular of all the comedies has given her in a long time. The most recent of these comedies is "The American" by Frank Harkaway, who opens Monday in "The American."

HEARST'S BOSTON AMERICAN

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST

50 AND 52 SUMMIT ST., BOSTON, MARCH 1, 1908

"Jim" Curley Has Charge of Public Ownership Opposition

Then the Cause of Private Monopoly in the Boston Board of Aldermen Is Where It Should Be—in the Hands of Its Friends.

Senator Elkins fathering the railroad rate bill, with the result that the chagrined Senators in the Republican party proposed that Senator Tillman report the Hepburn measure.

This, naturally, is as it should be. It is equally proper that the fight against a measure should be conducted by those who are flatly opposed to it.

This rule is being carried out at present in the Boston Board of Aldermen, which is considering the matter of Municipal Ownership of Lighting Plants, a measure which a large majority of the citizens of Boston want, but which a small minority of City Councilmen, at the behest of the Gas and Electric Light Trusts, are endeavoring to prevent them from securing.

If you had chanced to be at any recent meeting of the Board of Aldermen of Boston you would have seen that the members of the Board affiliated with that political machine known as the "Fitzgerald guide," have looked in BUT ONE DIRECTION for advice, counsel and guidance. During meetings they have openly gone for instructions to Alderman Curley of Ward 17. He has told them what motions to make, how to vote, when to be present at roll call, and when to make themselves scarce. It also appears that he is conducting the opposition to the cause of municipal ownership.

Alderman James M. Curley is the honorable representative of Ward 17 who was arrested on a charge of impersonating another man at a Civil Service examination, was tried, convicted, and sentenced to a TERM IN JAIL, WHICH HE SERVED, WHILE HE WAS A MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

In putting the opposition to the will of the people in his hands the Gas Trust, or Mayor Fitzgerald, or whoever has given the orders, has done most wisely.

It is very fitting that the cause of private monopoly should be in the hands of worthy representatives.

The people of Boston owe their thanks to the trusts for their choice of a business representative. It serves to place the movement to thwart the people's will exactly in the category in which it belongs.

Old Women Should Be THE HAPPY ONES

And They Will Be Happy and Happier
AND ALWAYS YOUNG
Some Day

Her birthday should fill with shame the foolish minded that are wont to look upon the "old maid" as a thing out of place in civilization.

The birthday of Susan B. Anthony, like the birthday of Julia Ward Howe, or the wonderful acting in old age of Sarah Bernhardt, SHOULD FILLED WITH THOUGHT AND HOPE AND DETERMINATION EVERY OLD WOMAN IN THE COUNTRY.

When we say "old woman" we mean a woman old in years. There ought not to be ANY old women in the sense of infirm or discouraged or DULL women.

For the man who keeps his mind active old age is a good thing. A Bismarck, a Gladstone, a Moutrie are happiest in their old age, when the fruit of a life of work is ripe.

The woman in old age should be even happier than the man. Old age is the woman's time of rest, of mental work, and of real pleasure in life.

When a woman is old, if she has kept her mind active, AND HAS WISELY REFUSED TO SETTLE INTO THE DULL TRAIL THAT PEOPLE ALWAYS HAVE READY FOR HER, she can begin to enjoy life in old age.

In old age there is no more worry about the babies, no more suffering. The milk bottles haven't got to be washed, the colds to be watched, the clothes to be worried about. The children are grown up and out of the way. And the grandchildren are a delightful amusement, not a bitter, constant worry.

A woman of mature years—from sixty to eighty-five—should be at her best mentally. She should improve between sixty and seventy. The woman from sixty to eighty knows best how to enjoy a good play, a good book, the conversation of intelligent human beings.

Her mind is off herself. PART OF THE TIME at least. She is more interested in the world and its problems, in science, in new ideas, THAN IN THE HAT THAT SHE SAW IN THE WINDOW.

Women in old age should really be happier than men. They retain their vitality, their capacity for enjoyment longer than men on the average, if they live wisely.

Life insurance companies do not consider women very good risks when they are young—for woman's duty is to populate the earth at the risk of her own life. THE WOMEN ARE THE REAL SOLDIERS OF THE WORLD. They are the brave soldiers that CREATE human beings, AND IMMENSELY SUPERIOR TO THE PAID MURDERERS THAT KILL HUMAN BEINGS.

According to the same insurance people, a woman's life, when her youth and the dangers of maternity are passed, is a safer risk than that of a man.

We write this editorial not for the young people—it is hard to make them understand their duty to the world.

We write FOR THE OLD WOMEN THEMSELVES. And we say to them:

Don't let yourselves be pushed into a corner. Don't put on little lace veils over your heads, or old-fashioned cloaks or caps, unless you want them.

Make yourselves comfortable FOR YOUR OWN SAKE. Don't allow the children to make you old and ridiculous FOR THEIR SAKE. Get comfortable shoes, so much as HOW they look. The old kind made of cloth, with elastic at the sides, are very good. You can put them on easily. Get comfortable loose dresses. But get them AS HANDSOME as you can. Get hats to suit yourselves—and if you like the foolish kind that go up in the air on one side and fall down on the other, GET THEM.

Live to enjoy life and please yourselves. Realize that the old age of a woman should be her happy age. And try to make YOUR own old age happy.

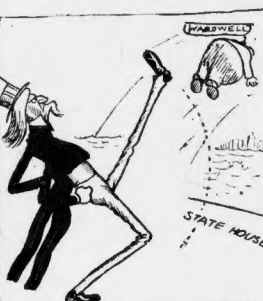

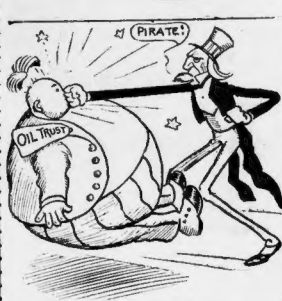

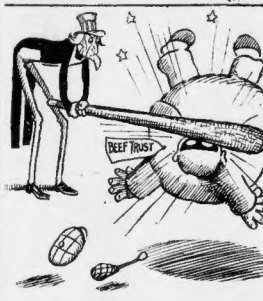

Go about, go everywhere that anybody else goes. Go to the theatres, follow the new books, buy them and read them. Go to the stores and get nice things for yourselves as well as for your children and your grandchildren.

ABOVE ALL, KEEP YOUR MINDS ACTIVE. Think, read what is new. Accept new ideas. Look ahead. DON'T LOOK BACK. Determine to be young and to be happy, as Providence intends you should be, as a reward for the work that you did in your youth.

We're Going to Have a Rate Bill

By James J. Montague

We're going to have a rate bill full of figures, facts and dates. Concerning sheep and shadows and scorpions and snakes. Embracing almost everything beneath the sun but rates. Which really do not matter anyway. It's worried most adversely in regard to lima beans.

And though no one in all the world can find out what it means, We're going to have a rate bill. Hip Hurray!

We're going to have a rate bill as easy to translate as a Hindustani essay on the Philosophy of Fate. Just when Teddy read it over he pronounced it simply great.

So we're going to have a rate bill! Hip Hurray!

You can read it backwards, forwards, or both at either side. You can thread its many mazes by nose or with a guide, but what it all may be about you never can decide.

Still, we're going to have a rate bill, anyway.

We're going to have a rate bill, and the courts can always find a puzzle that is fitted to engage a lawyer's brain.

A puzzle that forever will befog all human kind.

We're going to have a rate bill. Hip Hurray!

The railroad trust, of course, will have the same old right to claim their privilege of pilage at the ancient rebate rates.

And still keep busy plundering the people just the same.

But we're going to have a rate bill, anyway.

Thales, the Philosopher

By Rev. Thomas B. Gregory

THE four great Ancients of which all that we see are but the Peoples, the Egyptian variable states. In a word, what is the new the Mexican the beginning of things? To ask this question was to open up the Roman the era of Philosophical Inquiry. Hitherto, the Greek to men had contented themselves with the Thinker and Res. accepting the world as they found it, with believing that they saw, and with owner.

It was in Greece that adoring what they could not see; but Philosophy was born, here, at last, was a man who wanted and of Greek Phil. Truth, scientific fact, instead of the osophy the founder was vagaries of a superstitious credulity.

As Eviler says it: "The very conception of reducing the diversified exuberance of the world to a single principle showed a speculative boldness which proved that a new intellectual age was dawning on mankind."

Reason was born, scientific investigation was begun. At last a Thinker had arisen!

No longer was the dream of the Mystical Spirit to lord it over the human mind. No longer were the Senses to hold the secondary over intellect and common sense.

At last, after we know not how many generations of Fetishism, Mysticism and blind, unreasoning credulity and dreaming, the process of Rational Inquiry was inaugurated, and the way opened for the scientific achievement which was to put of with less than a national answer.

The divine Mediterranean sea, the great blue sea, the sun, the moon, the stars, the mountains and rivers, the forest and plains, the chariot and the horses, the ships and men—all moved something, and Thales set himself to the task of finding out what that something was.
